NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We take pleasure in offering to our numerous friends and patrons, our New Illustrated Catalogue of Bulbous Roots, &c., which will be found to embrace a list of all the new and most desirable varieties, having personally (while in Europe) made selections and additions to our previously large collection of all really new and desirable varieties; especial care having been taken in their selection to secure those combining all the essential qualities to recommend them, viz: size, color, and free-bloooming qualities. The Hyacinths will be found deserving of attention, and have been selected from the finest collections in Haarlem. They are especially adapted for forcing into early bloom, in pots or glasses.

Bulbous Roots, by Mail. No extra charge will be made over Catalogue prices to those ordering AN ASSORTMENT at the retail prices. When ordered by the hundred, it is preferable to send by Express, which will be at the purchaser's cost.

All orders from unknown correspondents must be accompanied by Cash, Post Office Order, or instruction to Collect on Delivery, by Express. Collection charges on all bills under $5 to be paid by purchaser.

A liberal discount to all purchasers ordering in quantity, especially when the selection of varieties is left to our choice.

☞ CAUTION. Do not buy of travelling agents or peddlers. Some of these impostors have represented themselves as our agents—beware of them. We employ no travelling agents. Send direct to headquarters, and then you are sure of obtaining a genuine article at a moderate price.

☞ Be particular to write your name distinctly, with Post Office, County and State. Address,

YORK, Pa., April 26, 1870.

I have just now in one of my borders, one of the finest displays of single and double early Tulips, that I have ever seen, all from bulbs procured at your store last October.

A. R BLAIR.

FAYETTE, Mo., March 8, 1870.

This is, I believe, the tenth year that I have been ordering seeds and plants from you, so you may suppose you have given satisfaction, since I have stuck to you so well.

THOS. WARD.

COLUMBIA, S. C., January, 1870.

The collection of bulbs and roses ordered from you by me in the fall, came to hand in fine order. All the roses are growing, and many of the bulbs are up in the garden. I procured all my flower seed from you last summer, and they were many of them magnificent.

HON. W. HUTSON WIGG.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 11, 1870.

I must say here that all the plants and seeds from you have done splendidly, and the Pansies are beautiful—hundreds have admired them.

GEO. A. PECK.

HARDY SPRING-FLOWERING

BULBOUS ROOTS,

Their Nature and Treatment.

PLANTED FROM OCTOBER TO DECEMBER.

Bulbs belong to a particular division of the vegetable kingdom; they are all, with scarcely a single exception, very ornamental, and hence desirable for the very large size of their flower in proportion to the entire plant, and for the brilliancy of their colors. By far the greater number of bulbs flower in the spring, and produce their flower stems immediately after they begin to grow; and shortly after they have flowered they cease growing and remain dormant and without leaves during the remainder of the year; hence, almost all bulbs require to be planted in the autumn—a fact which most amateurs are apt to overlook, and frequently send their orders out of season. They require a free, dry and somewhat rich soil, into which the roots may penetrate freely. A bulb is essentially a bud, and contains within itself the germs of the leaves and flowers which are to be produced the following season; thus, in one sense, they are of more easy culture than any other class of plants, because the germ being previously formed, and the nourishment being provided in the body of the bulb, it is only necessary to supply heat and moisture to cause them to develop; this is fully exemplified in the Hyacinth, Narcissus, Crocus, early Tulips, and some other bulbs, which can be flowered when placed over water in glasses or in wet moss. The Hyacinth is the especial favorite for forcing in glasses, and full directions for their management will be found under the head of Hyacinths.

SOIL.—The proper compost for Hyacinths, Tulips, Crown Imperials, Iris, Ranunculus, Anemones, Crocus, and most other bulbs, is the following: one-third sand, one-third well rotted cow manure, and one-third good garden mould.

TIME OF PLANTING.—The preferable season for planting all hardy bulbs, is from October to December; but they can be set out at any later time, so long as the bulbs remain sound.

DEPTH AND DISTANCE.—Hyacinths, large Lilies and Pæonias, should be planted at the depth of four inches; Crown Imperials and Polyanthus Narcissus, five inches; Tulips, Double Narcissus, Jonquils and Colchicums, three inches; Bulbous Iris, Crocus, small Fritillarias, Gladiolus Byzantinus and Snowdrops, two inches; Ranunculus and Anemones, one inch; always measuring from top of the bulb. The rows should be about ten inches apart, and the bulbs to be placed from four to eight inches apart in the rows, according to their size. As the cold weather approaches, give the bed a good covering of leaves, hay, old manure or tan, to prevent the frost from penetrating to the bulbs. Early in the spring, as soon as the shoots are pushing through it, the covering should be carefully removed, and the earth slightly stirred with a garden fork.

TAKING UP AND PRESERVING.—Take up Bulbous Roots about a month after the blossom is completely over, in the following manner: when the plants put on a yellowish decayed appearance, take up the roots, cut off the stem and foliage within an inch of the bulbs, but leave the fibres, etc., attached to them; spread them in an airy room for two or three weeks to dry, after which wrap each root carefully in paper, (as the air is very injurious to bulbs,) or cover them in sand perfectly dry.

Bulbs intended for blooming in pots during the winter season, should be planted during the months of October and November, and be left exposed to the open air (covered with a few inches of tan or soil) until they begin to freeze, and then be placed in the greenhouse or a room where fire is usually made. They will need, occasionally, moderate watering until they begin to grow, when they should have an abundance of air in mild weather, and plenty of water from the saucers whilst in a growing state; and should be exposed as much as possible to the sun, air and light to prevent the leaves from growing too long or becoming yellow.

THE HYACINTH.

Among hardy bulbs the Hyacinth stands (deservedly so) foremost on the list; it is not only a general favorite for the garden, but has become exceedingly popular as a winter flower, from the facility with which it may be forced into bloom, either in pots or glasses filled with water; nothing can be more delightful, either for beauty or fragrance, than a stand of these lovely flowers, in the parlor or drawing-room, during the winter months.

METHOD OF BLOOMING HYACINTHS IN THE WINTER SEASON IN GLASSES.

For this purpose Single Hyacinths, and such as are designated earliest among the Double, are to be preferred. Single Hyacinths are generally held in less estimation than Double ones; their colors, however, are more vivid, and their bells, though smaller, are more numerous; some of the sorts are exquisitely beautiful; they are preferable for flowering in winter to most of the Double ones, as they bloom two or three weeks earlier and are very sweet scented.

Hyacinths intended for glasses should be placed in them during October and November, the glasses being previously filled with pure water, so that the bottom of the bulb may just touch the water; then place them for the first three or four weeks in a dark closet, box or cellar, to promote the shooting of the fibres, which should fill the glasses before exposing them to the sun, after which expose them to the light and sun gradually. If kept too light and warm at first, and before there is sufficient fibre, they will rarely flower well. They will bloom without any sun, but the colors of the flowers will be inferior. To insure vigorous growth a favorable exposure to light and occasional fresh air, when mild, are essential. The water should be changed as it becomes impure; draw the roots entirely out of the glasses, rinse off the fibres in clean water, and wash the inside of the glass well. Care should be taken that the water does not freeze, as it would not only burst the glass, but cause the fibres to decay. Whether the water is hard or soft, is not a matter of much consequence—soft is preferable—but must be perfectly clear to show the fibres to advantage.

Avoid a low water mark in the glasses by keeping it to a level with the base of each bulb. Never place the glasses upon a mantelpiece or shelf within the influence of fire heat during the process of growth. To stimulate and strengthen the growth, dissolve a pinch of sulphate of ammonia occasionally in the water after the bulbs are exposed to light.

THE TREATMENT OF HYACINTHS IN POTS.

For the growth of Hyacinths in pots, the most favorable planting season for early bloom is September, and for a succession, at intervals up to January. The size of pots is regulated by the space or convenience for placing them; when limited, and a rich massive effect is wished for, those of six or eight inches in diameter are recommended, in which three or four bulbs may be placed, but where more convenience is had, a succession of single or double bulbs in smaller pots may be admitted—two bulbs in each is very effective, and generally preferred; the colors of such may be regulated according to taste. In potting, use the soil as already described, each bulb should remain one-third above the surface of the soil, and the base of each bulb should rest upon a strata of clean river sand. After potting place them where intended to remain, upon a dry surface of ashes or sharp gravel, in the rotation of their intended periods of bloom, (each later potting plunged beyond the previous ones,) and thus arranged, water the whole well to imbed the bulbs firmly within the soil, allowing them to remain until the bulbs and surfaces are again dry (for one or two days); then cover the whole over to the depth of three or four inches with half-dried tan, sawdust, sand or soil, for six or eight weeks, in which position the preparatory root-growth is made, necessary to a vigorous development of their flowerscapes. After the period adverted to, less or more, the first potted bulbs may be taken up, the soil and sediment carefully brushed off, and removed to a gentle hot-bed, or a warm genial greenhouse or room where the bloom will progressively expand, care being taken to screen the leaf-growth made in darkness for a few days. A short difference of a week or fortnight between the periods of potting will produce a corresponding difference in the periods of bloom.

DOUBLE HYACINTHS.

For Beds and Border culture. Those marked early are suitable for growing in pots and Glasses, and force very readily, but are not so early as the Single varieties.

SINGLE HYACINTHS.

Single Hyacinths are by some held in less estimation than double ones; but on a closer acquaintance with their fine qualities, they will be found more deserving of cultivation. They are desirable for their early flowering, especially in pots or glasses; their colors are more brilliant, and they excel the double in their greater profusion of bells and fine odor.

TULIPS.

THE TULIP, of all bulbous flowers, is the most celebrated, popular and brilliant, and has always been prized by florists, as the most decorative and showy of spring flowers; and not simply for effect alone, for many of the choice kinds have a delicacy of pencelling, and richness of tinting, which excel all other plants. They are easy of culture, both in the conservatory or parlor, (for which the early varieties are recommended) and the open garden. They will thrive in almost any good soil. A sandy, soil enriched with rotted cow manure, is, however, preferable—and being perfectly hardy, they can well claim a prominent rank among hardy bulbs.

Their cultivation is yet so limited, that their real beauty is not generally recognized. A few bulbs scattered here and there produce but little effect, but when planted in masses, or in small groups, they become at once grand and brilliant, and eclipse, in real variety of coloring and picturesque effect, almost any other flower.

EARLY DWARF DUC VAN THOLL TULIPS.

The Duc Van Tholls are admired for their neat dwarf habit of growth, and brilliant colors. They are the earliest of all Tulips, and are especially adapted for pot culture, for winter blooming. The best effect is produced by planting in large pots, six, twelve or more bulbs of the different colors.

EARLY SINGLE TULIPS.

These are well known ornaments of the garden, as well as the greenhouse. Forced in pots, they are very gay and fine; and for bedding in mixtures, or in separate colors and sorts, no spring flower is equal to them in brilliancy.

THE CROCUS,

As one of the earliest ornaments of the flower garden, is a universal favorite, being neat, dwarf, and compact in growth, and varied in all the essential shades of color for producing harmony of effect, either separately or blended together. The principal adaptation of this bulb consists in its suitability for planting sufficiently near to the margin or edge of flower borders, beds, etc., so as not to require removal, or in forming lines or edges entirely of such, in their relative colors, which, after blooming, may be removed as the leaves show maturity of growth by fading in color, (the bulbs being stored away dry and cool until the following autumn,) and the same spaces being again occupied by summer flowering plants.

The principal months for planting, are October, November and December, in ordinary rich garden soil, placing the bulbs about two inches deep, and four to six inches from the margin or edge, each group of six to eight or more bulbs being planted in its own relative color, or otherwise in blended varieties, as taste may prefer. These all improve in beauty for some years if not disturbed.

To secure a succession of blooms in pots, commence early in the first named month with six or eight bulbs in each well drained pot, using the same rich soil about an inch deep, and, thus planted, place the pots on a surface of ashes, covering them over one inch deep with soil, tan, dry leaf mould, or sand, until the leaves appear through the soil, when they may be removed to the house.

NARCISSUS.

All the varieties are extremely hardy and popular as a border flower. The Single Narcissus, of which we give an illustration, is quite an attractive flower, the central cup being of a very different color from the six petals. Some have the petals of a light yellow and the cup orange; others have the petals white and the cup yellow; while the Poet's Narcissus is snowy white, the cup cream color, with a delicate fringed edge of red or orange. The Double varieties are very desirable. The well known Daffodil is of this class. Its true name is Von Sion. Orange Phœnix is sometimes called Butter-and-Eggs as the large petals are creamy yellow and the short ones orange.

The Polyanthus Narcissus are very attractive and showy flowers, producing on a tall stem large clusters of white and yellow cup-shaped blossoms, and are particularly admired for their sweet jasmine perfume; they contrast finely with the Hyacinth, for garden, pot or glass culture and require the same treatment.

SNOWDROPS.

The pretty Snowdrop, "in habit white and plain," is the first of all flowers to herald the approach of spring. Long before any other flower, it shoots up its slender stem, and displays its white, drooping corols, while the spotless snow still covers the shady recesses of the garden. They flourish well in any soil, and bloom best if not transplanted oftener than every three years. Being dwarf, they should, when planted in the garden, be set near the edge of walks, where they show to advantage. They also flourish well in sand or moss, or in pots or baskets.

GOLDEN LILY.

The Lilium auratum is the new great Lily, from Japan, and called the "Golden Lily." This is the king of lilies, and, as Dr. Lindley truly remarked, "If ever a flower merited the title of 'glorious' it is this, whether we regard its size, sweetness, or exquisite arrangement of color." The flower is from eight to twelve inches across, composed of six delicate white ivory petals, each being thickly studded with rich chocolate crimson spots, and having a bright golden band through the centre of each petal, with an exquisite vanilla-like perfume. As the bulbs acquire age and strength, the flowers obtain their maximum size and number. Upwards of twelve flowers have been produced on a single stem. It is perfectly hardy in dry soils, and is also admirably adapted for pot culture.

Strong Flowering Bulbs, $1.50 to $2.00 each.

2d Size Flowering Bulbs, 50 cts. to $1.00 each.

LILIUM.

The Lily has always been a favorite flower. Some of the varieties are truly magnificent. The Japan Lilies, Lilium lancifolium, are among the most beautiful, and are delightfully fragrant; imparting a vanilla perfume, and are suited for either pot culture or the garden; their period of blooming is during the months of July and August. They are all hardy, and the bulbs can be planted either in the Autumn or Spring.

This class of beautiful variegated foliage plants, margined and delicately traced with various rich colors, and elegantly spotted and mottled, give them a rare beauty. When alone or intermingled with other plants, they are valuable for summer decoration of the conservatory or greenhouse, and require a moist, warm atmosphere. The tubers require to be kept in a warm, dry place during the winter, and must be started in the spring in a warm house or hot-bed, with bottom heat—some of the hardier varieties can be planted in a shady situation out of doors. 50 cents to $1.00 each. Assortments from $5.00 to $10.00 per dozen.

SUMMER AND AUTUMN-FLOWERING

BULBS AND TUBERS,

FOR PLANTING IN THE SPRING.

Bulbs ready for delivery in October, and planted from April to June.

AGAPANTHUS UMBELLATUS.

(AFRICAN BLUE LILY.)

A noble plant, belonging to the bulbous rooted section, with evergreen foliage. A large plant, under good treatment, will frequently send up a flower-stalk three feet high, crowned with twenty or thirty heads of flowers, which will come into blossom in succession. It blooms during the summer, and forms a fine ornament to an architectural terrace, or a lawn. Price of plants from 50 cents to $2.00 each, according to size.

AMARYLLIS, OR JACOBEA LILY.

(SPREIKELIA FORMOSISSIMA.)

This flower is of the most beautiful and rich crimson-velvet color; the bulb generally produces two stems, the one after the other, about the end of May or the first of June; the stem is from nine to twelve inches high, surmounted by a single flower composed of six petals, three hanging down, three erect and recurved; the stamens droop on the centre of the under petals. The flower thus appears nodding on one side of the stem, and has a most graceful and charming appearance. Plant about the first of May. Price 25 cents each, $2.50 per dozen.

COLOCASIA, OR CALADIUM ESCULENTUM.

One of the most beautiful and striking of the Ornamental Foliaged Plants in cultivation, either for culture in large pots, or for planting out upon the lawn; it will grow in any good garden soil, and is of the easiest culture; when of full size it stands about five feet high, with immense leaves, often measuring four feet in length, by two and a half in breadth; very smooth, of a light green color, beautifully veined and variegated with dark green. The root should be preserved in dry sand, in a cellar, during winter, out of reach of frost. Price 25 to 50 cents each, according to size of bulbs.

DAHLIA.

Of this attractive flower we have several hundred varieties, and are constantly adding all the newest and best as they are offered, and rejecting older and inferior kinds. Our collection has received numerous prizes at the exhibitions of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, and received the First Premium in 1869. We are now enabled to offer white and yellow varieties (for which there has been an unusually great demand) in quantity. The roots will be ready for delivery about the 1st of November.

French Hybrid Gladiolus.

They are the most stately and effective of the whole genus; being of a robust erect growth, with green sword-shaped leaves and magnificent flower scapes, rising from three to five feet in height. The colors comprise the most brilliant of orange, scarlet, and vermilion tints, upon yellow and orange grounds, including a graduated scale of intermediate shades, from white with rosy blush and salmon rose tints, to a salmon-red and nankeen; from blush-white, with purple crimson throat, and marginal streaks of pink, to light rosy salmon grounds, with flakes of deep carmine. A succession of bloom may be had from July to September, by planting at intervals from April to June, reserving the strongest bulbs for the latest planting. Their culture is very simple; they will grow in any ordinary garden-mould, but succeed best in good earth, manured with well-rotted manure. The bulbs are taken up in the fall and placed in a dry cellar, protected from frost.

GLADIOLUS—IN ASSORTMENTS.

Where the choice of varieties is left to us, the purchaser will generally fare better as to quality and price—as we have often a large stock of some of the finer and high-priced varieties, which we can include in the following assortments.

MADEIRA; or, Mexican Vine. (Also known as the Mignonette Vine.)

Of rapid growth, suitable for covering arbors and trellis work. Flowers feathery white, with a fragrance resembling mignonette. Price 10 cents each; $1 00 per dozen.

TIGRIDIA; or, Tiger Flower.

Native of Mexico, producing flowers of exquisite beauty, and singularly curious shape, the colors gorgeous and perfectly contrasted; in bloom from July to October. CONCHIFLORA. Orange and golden yellow, spotted with dark crimson.

Price 8 cents each; 60 cents per dozen; $4 00 per hundred.

DOUBLE TUBEROSE.

One of the most delightfully fragrant and beautiful of the summer-flowering bulbs, throwing up tall spikes of double white flowers two to three feet high, which remain in bloom a long period. It is now an indispensable article in making up a bouquet or basket of flowers at any time during the year, as by skilful management a succession of flowers can be obtained. For early flowers they can be started in February or March, in the greenhouse or hotbed, and for a succession they can be planted at intervals as late as July. For flowering in the open borders, they can be planted about the first of May; they will then bloom in September. The bulbs we offer this season are very fine, and certain to flower.

1st size, 10 cents each; $1 00 per dozen; $7 00 per hundred.
2d size, 8 cents each; 80 cents per dozen; $5 00 per hundred.

SINGLE TUBEROSE

Is also valuable as a bouquet flower, as it flowers earlier than the double, and on this account more suitable for northern latitudes. Price 10 cents each; $1 00 per dozen.

VARIEGATED-LEAVED TUBEROSE.

A new variety, with variegated leaves, striped with light yellow, very attractive. Price 50 cents each.

TRITOMA.

A splendid half-hardy summer and autumn flowering plant, with stately flower scapes and magnificent terminal dense spikes of rich orange-red flower-tubes. They may be taken up in the fall and potted, and placed in a cool greenhouse, pit, or cellar. Rooperii. Early free blooming. Uvaria Grandiflora, finest. Price 50 cents to $1 00 each, according to size, for blooming plants.

RANUNCULUS.

For symmetry of form and brilliancy of color, in almost all the varieties and hues which are recognized among flowers, the Ranunculus is probably unequalled by any other; for its culture, it requires a good depth of rich garden soil. The bulbs are rather tender, and should be planted out of doors in early spring; they bloom in June; also, can be grown in pots, and forced into early bloom in the greenhouse.

TURKISH.

Price 10 cents each; $1 00 per dozen.

Black Turban, blackish-brown.
Hercules, pure white.
Merveilleuse, orange yellow.
Prince de Galitzin, yellow, spotted brown.
Romano, red.
Seraphique d'Algier, light yellow.
Mixed varieties per dozen, 80 cents.

PERSIAN.

Price 10 cents each; $1 00 per dozen.

Belle Donna, rose, with black border.
Cramoisy Superbe, red striped.
Commodore Napier, yellow, with black border.
Feuersaüle, red and yellow.
Reine Vasthy, white and rose.
Rose des Dames, rosy.
Mixed varieties, per dozen, 80 cents.

VALOTTA PURPUREA SUPERBA.

A bulbous-rooted plant, somewhat resembling an Amaryllis. It blooms in August, throwing up its strong stems about one foot high, with from five to eight brilliant scarlet lily-like flowers; very ornamental for bedding out, or cultivation in pots. Price $1 00 each.

Ornamental and Winter Blooming Plants,

Price of named varieties, $2 per dozen; $10 per hundred.
" unnamed " 1 " 7 "

ROSES.

We offer a large and very select assortment of Roses, importing yearly direct from the European growers all the newest and best varieties, and only retaining such as are adapted to our climate or possess any special merit over varieties already introduced. Nearly all are grown in pots, on their own roots, which renders them much more desirable for sending to a distance, as they retain their ball of roots, and the purchaser runs no risk in transplanting. We also grow quite a quantity of the leading sorts in the open ground, which are sold in the autumn at 25 per cent. less than the prices here quoted.

Price, from 25 to 50 cents each, according to size.

CHINESE EVERGREEN. Best for covering walls, trellises, &c.; very fragrant, commonly called Woodbine.

HALLIEANA. A new white monthly Honeysuckle, raised from seed sent from China, by Dr. Hall, who introduced the variegated Honeysuckle from Japan. It is evergreen, resembling L. Splendida or L. Flexuosa. Flowers pure white, turning to yellow, with the fragrance of the Cape Jessamine, and is covered with flowers from June until November. It is a vigorous grower, and very hardy.

VARIEGATED (BRACHYPODIUM AUREA RETICULATA). This is one of the recent introductions from Japan, the foliage beautifully variegated.

BELGIAN, or Monthly. Very fragrant.
SCARLET TRUMPET, or coral.
YELLOW TRUMPET.

SMALL FRUITS.

We offer a select list of the most desirable varieties, believing that every one who possesses but a rod of ground, should set out a few plants for his family, as there is no fruit so easily grown, or that can contribute as much to their health and gratification, at such a small outlay of time or money. A corner, or garden fence, could be made to yield a generous crop of raspberries or blackberries, which is now neglected, or overrun with weeds. We have seen a large family supplied during the greater part of the berry season, with the product of one dozen, each, of the Philadelphia and Clark Raspberry, and Wilson and Kittatinny Blackberry Plants, the whole of which (four dozen plants) we will forward by mail for four dollars.

BLACKBERRIES.

	per doz.	per 100.	per 1000
THE EARLY WILSON, stands foremost on the list as the earliest, largest, sweetest, and most productive; the entire crop matures in about two weeks	$1 50	$6 00	$40 00
KITTATINNY, follows after the Early Wilson, fruit very large and of superior quality	1 00	5 00	25 00
LAWTON, OR NEW ROCHELLE	1 00	3 00	15 00
DORCHESTER, the earliest variety	1 00	3 00	15 00

CURRANTS.

HOUGHTON'S AMERICAN SEEDLING. This variety is considered the best for our climate; it is very productive, and not liable to mildew	$1 50	$10 00	$80 00
ENGLISH VARIETIES, choice large sorts, imported from Lancashire	3 00

RASPBERRIES.

Whilst we have nothing new of especial merit among other varieties of small fruits, we believe we have at last several new varieties of Raspberry, which promise to supersede the kinds now under cultivation, as these combine all the requisites heretofore wanting, viz., hardiness, productiveness, with size, bright color, and superior flavor. To Mr. D. W. Herstine, of this city, belongs the credit of producing these new varieties. He has authorized us to offer a limited number of the two following varieties.

"HERSTINE." Plant a good grower; most abundant and early bearer: suckers moderately; canes strong, of a red, green color; covered with white bloom, spines green, but not abundant; foliage healthy, of medium size, and often lobed; of a pearl gray color on the under side; fruit large, oblong, with small grains, and crimson color; flavor sub-acid, and very good. (For representation, see outside cover.)

"SAUNDERS," in honor of Wm. Saunders, of Experimental Gardens, Washington, D. C. Plant a good bearer, suckering freely; canes green, shaded with purple; spines numerous, small, and light green; folinge light green, and abundant; fruit very large, round, of a crimson color, with large grains, of high character, and delicious. Price of plants of each of the above, $3 00 each; $16 00 per half dozen; $30 00 per dozen.

We have also another new variety, of great excellence, to offer, raised by Mr. Anthony Felten, which he has named the NORTHERN WONDER. The plant is of a dwarf, stocky growth, perfectly hardy, and exceedingly productive. Fruit large, bright crimson color, flavor of best quality. The Gardener's Monthly of August, 1870, makes the following report: "The Saunders was awarded the premium, although there was but little difference against the 'Northern Wonder,' which is evidently a very good variety, and will be perhaps as popular in the field as any of its contemporaries. It seems, by the specimens exhibited, to be a compact, stiff grower." Price $1 00 each; $10 00 per dozen.

	per doz.	per 100	per 1000
Philadelphia, fruit good size, purplish-red color, rich and juicy; perfectly hardy	$1 00	$5 00	$30 00
Clarke, fruit bright crimson (not dropping as soon as ripe), finest flavor; very large, hardy, and productive; firm for transportation	1 00	5 00	30 00
Hornet, a large French variety	2 00
Brinckle's Orange, a favorite variety	2 00
Improved Black Cap	1 00	3 00	15 00
